NAME

accton — turn accounting on/off

SYNOPSIS

/etc/accton [file]

DESCRIPTION

Accton is used to turn system level accounting on and off. If the file argument is given, accounting is turned on and accounting information for each process is placed at the end of file. If the file argument is not given, accounting is turned off.

This command is effective only if system accounting is enabled at system generation time by specifying the parameter SYSACCT in /usr/include/sys/param.h.

FILES

/usr/include/sys/param.h.
